In Case of Exposure

If a soldier yields to temptation and "falls for" a whore or a boozing girl, he must take early prophylactic treatment.

He ought to take it as soon as possible—within two or three hours after exposure.

By taking this early treatment he will greatly decrease his chances of getting gonorrhea, syphilis, or chancroid.

If he fails to take it and later develops a venereal disease, he will be court-martialed for disobeying General Order No. 17 of 1917.

If in spite of early treatment venereal disease develops, his pay will be stopped during the time he is off duty.

The Government regards sexual intercourse as unnecessary and diseases contracted thereby as not in the line of duty.

STAMP OUT VENereal DISEASES...
This girl may become an invalid for life if she marries a man who has had gonorrhea not entirely cured.

Gonorrhea Causes:
1. Many surgical operations upon woman
2. Much inactivity among innocent wives
3. Many childless marriages
